

The Astle-Alpaugh Family Foundation

Privacy Policy

Last modified: June 30, 2013

Introduction

The following Privacy Policy ("Policy") describes how The Astle-Alpaugh Family Foundation may use the information we obtain from you when you use the taaff.org website, mobile applications, and any related products and services we provide (the "Site"). This Policy is incorporated by reference into our Terms of Use.

Usage Data

We may collect data regarding your Internet browser and IP address of your computer or other device you use to access the Site, which may be used to generate aggregated, non-identifying information about the use of the Site. Our systems also automatically record certain information about how each user navigates and interacts with the Site, such as recording page views, time spent on pages, login frequency, search terms entered, referring website, and other information.

Cookies

Cookies are small data files placed on your computer's hard drive that allow us to keep a record of how and when you visit pages on the Site. Most browsers have an option for customizing or disabling cookies. We recommend that you leave cookies activated, however, as our use of cookies is intended to customize and improve your experience on the Site.

Aggregated Information

We may share aggregated, non-identifying information regarding the use of the Site by you and other users with third parties by email, on the Site or otherwise to inform others how various aspects of the Site are being used or to promote or analyze the Site. This information will be shared in the form of aggregated and non-personally identifying statistical reports and will not identify you or any other individual user.

Linking And Third Party Websites

The Site may include links to other websites that we do not own or control and social features that allow you to use third party social media services. We are not responsible for the privacy policies or practices of any other website or service and when you access third party websites and services you do so at your own risk. We encourage you to read the privacy policy of any other website or service you access so you are informed of how your usage data is being used.

Children

No part of the Site is intended for anyone under the age of 13 and we do not knowingly collect or maintain Personal Information from such individuals. We fully comply with all privacy laws, including COPPA (Children's Online Privacy Protection Act).

Changes

We may modify this Policy from time to time by posting such changes on the Site and updating the "last modified" date of this Policy. Changes to this Policy are effective when posted on the Site and your continued use of the Site after changes have been posted will constitute your acceptance of the new terms. Taaffshowcase.org users should review this page regularly to remain informed as to our collection and use of information.

More Information

If you have questions about our privacy practices, please email us at: taaff.org@gmail.com.